Parents are critical to the success of our students at the UAC. We invite you to join us for the first day of Orientation. In the morning, you will join your students for a welcome to the university and an introduction to the faculty. In the afternoon, you will have a program designed specifically for parents to learn how to best support your university student with the transition to the UAC. You will also have the chance to hear directly from faculty about their expectations and to ask questions from staff and administrators.
