Dear Graduates of 2024,

On behalf of everyone at the University of Utah, congratulations on reaching this momentous milestone! I am delighted to join with you, your classmates, and your loved ones to celebrate your accomplishment. You've done it, and all of us at the U are incredibly proud of you.

When some of you began your journey at the U, the world was in the midst of a global pandemic. Despite facing unprecedented challenges, you persevered, and the degree you've earned is a testament to your hard work, resilience, and dedication. Now, armed with your education, you're on the brink of an exciting future filled with possibility.

Regardless of where your journey takes you next, I encourage you to harness the skills and knowledge you've gained to become an agent of positive change. At the U, we're guided by a vision to inspire, innovate, and serve as we work toward becoming a university with unsurpassed societal impact. Let these values guide you, too, as you build your future and contribute to our global society.

As members of the U community, you helped create a rich, diverse, and vibrant learning environment. You challenged yourself to learn, explore, discover, collaborate, and create. I hope you had unforgettable experiences and made connections that will last a lifetime. As we celebrate this red-letter day, let's also recognize the family, friends, faculty, staff, and others who encouraged and supported you along the way. Remember their contributions to your achievements, and know that one day, you might have the chance to be a beacon of light on another student's journey.

Finally, while commencement marks the closing of a chapter, it also signals the beginning of a new one. As a proud University of Utah alum, I warmly welcome you into our 300,000-strong alumni family. You are joining a worldwide network of U graduates using their exceptional talents and education to make a difference in the world.

Again, congratulations. The world eagerly awaits your contributions. I wish you the best of luck and success as you embark on your future. And remember, you will always have a home here at the U.

Sincerely,

Taylor Randall
